AUTOMOBILE SHOW DRAWS BIG CROWDS TO CONVENTION HALL

Many Cars Are Sold to Visitors Who Came Merely to Inspect Vehicles.

By HARRY WARD.

With two days more to run, the autobile show in Convention Hall is setting new records for attendance. Yesterday was "Society Day" at the show, and, throughout the afternoon and evehundreds of prominent people viewed the large and varied collection of cars. The attendance in the evening was particularly large and progress through the aisles was difficult.

The enclosed electrics and berline sines attracted the attention of many handsomely gowned women, who listened attentively while smoothtongued salesmen extelled the merits of various machines. Never before has a finer collection of enclosed cars been seen in this city and many sales will be made as a direct result of the

That the show has been productive of much business is indicated by the "sold" cards which adorn many cars throughout the show. Not only have many sales been consummated during the week, but there is hardly a dealer exhibiting who has not a big bunch of "prospects." When the weather moderates and demonstrations can be given in comfort many of these "prospects" will become buyers.

Well may we say this, for here is a car of such well balanced construction that it truly may be called a modern "one-hoss shay" minus the "hoss." Every part is so perfectly constructed and adjusted to its particular use that when the car DOES wear out, it's the most likely car in the world to wear out all over. It bids defiance to time and rough usage, and ever is a model to please the eye, and satisfy the most exacting, for it embodies the utmost in design, construction, and equipm ent.
